Military-themed fun event goes down great guns

All smiles from April after her fundraising headshave

April 'braves the shave' for Auntie Dawn

A NINE-year-old girl from Skelmersdale has 'braved the shave' to show her support for her auntie who has lymphoma.

April Wohler, from Ivybridge, has also donated some of her hair to the Little Princess Trust, a charity that provides real hair wigs for children with cancer suffering hair loss.

The youngster, who goes to Cobbs Brow school, wanted to do something to help her aunt, 39-year-old Dawn Wohler, who is being treated for cancer at Christie's in Manchester.

April's mum, Valerie, said: "I have told her that children might tease her, but she wants to look like her Auntie Dawn."

April has already reached her target of raising £500 and work colleagues of her dad, Keith, have promised to double it. All the money raised by April's head shave will go to Christie's.

On her JustGiving fundraising page April wrote: "We all miss my auntie, who is in hospital, so much. I would like this money to go to The Christie's to help my Auntie Dawn and other people in there to get them all better and get the treatment they need."

Police warning about dangers of open-water swimming

STEER CLEAR OF QUARRIES-CALL

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE start of the school summer holidays and the recent hot weather have prompted a renewed warning by Lancashire Police about the dangers of open-water swimming.

Officers are urging youngsters to avoid the temptation to take a cooling dip in the county's canals and quarries and stick instead to supervised areas such as swimming pools.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA) has revealed that every year in the UK, around 400 people die from drowning – and thousands are left with severe injuries.

Search and rescue and emergency services respond to more than 100,000 water-related incidents each year.

Last year a campaign was launched to fill in a West Lancashire quarry following the death of 13-year-old Miracle Godson in April.

More that 4,000 people signed an online petition started by mum-of-one Natalie Prescott, 24, who suffered life-changing injuries three years ago when she jumped from the cliff at East Quarry in Appley Bridge and was lucky to survive after hitting the rocks.

Although often on private land, quarries attract young people from across Lancashire keen to scale the sharp perimeter fences to swim there, particularly during spells of warmer weather.

One of the warning signs at East Quarry

Video-sharing website YouTube features clips of young thrill-seekers hurling themselves in to the East Quarry, as well as Hilldale Quarry in neighbouring Parbold.

But unseen dangers at the quarry include swimmers going into shock when they are immersed in the cold water, hitting ledges or rocks under the water and being injured or drowning.

In 2000, 17-year-old Craig Croston from Platt Bridge also died at the Appley Bridge site after falling in.

And there have also been deaths at the privately-owned Hilldale Quarry. In 2010, 31-year-old Cameron McInnes died after the rope swing he was using snapped, sending him plunging into the water.

Sam Fowler, 14, from Norris Green, Liverpool, also died while swimming there in 1999.

Despite the string of deaths and injuries, there has still been a spate of calls to the police reporting trespassers swimming in the quarries.

A spokesperson for Lancashire Constabulary said: "There have been several calls reporting people trespassing and climbing into East Quarry at Appley Bridge and swimming in the water.

"Young people and teenagers are most at risk of drowning in deep, cold water and falling down sheer faces.

"The water can look inviting, especially in very warm weather such as that experienced recently, but the water is very cold and deep and even experienced swimmers can suddenly find themselves in difficulty.

"Jumping into the water is also very dangerous as there are rocks, ledges and debris on the quarry

Local GP to lead support project for cancer patients and their families

Community venue in Skelmersdale expected to be programme's centre

A GP from Ormskirk has been appointed to lead a Macmillan cancer programme for patients and their families living in West Lancashire.

Doctor Simon Frampton, who has been a partner at Ormskirk Medical Practice on Derby Street for 25 years, will lead the joint initiative by NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust and Macmillan Cancer Support.

The project aims to ensure that those living with and beyond cancer get the care and support they need to lead as healthy and active a lifestyle as possible, for as long as possible.

The new programme will tackle emotional, social and physical needs, as well as clinical care, and will be led by Dr Frampton, supported by Macmillan project manager, Jen Burns.

As part of the new programme a Macmillan cancer information and support centre will be opening at a community venue in 2016 which will provide practical and financial advice and emotional support to patients, families and carers.

Dr Simon Frampton

The location of the centre has not yet been finalised but it is expected to be created in Skelmersdale, with pop-up Macmillan information stands available at other locations across West Lancashire.

One element of the service that is already up and running in West Lancashire is Move More, a personal, tailored physical activity programme based in the physiotherapy department at Ormskirk Hospital.

Dr Simon Frampton said: "This programme is an excellent opportunity for West Lancashire and will provide great benefits to patients, families and carers.

"We recognise that emotional and social support is equally as important as the clinical treatment and care that people receive and this remains at the core of what we hope to deliver through this service.

"Similarly we recognise the important role our local GPs play in supporting those living with and beyond cancer, so a big part of this programme is working closely with primary care colleagues to enhance education around cancer."

Youngsters saddle up for safe cycling scheme

YEAR 5 pupils at Holland Moor Primary School in Cornbrook, Skelmersdale have been taking part in a special scheme to help them stay safe while out cycling.

Bikeability is a cycle training programme which aims to give youngsters practical skills and an understanding of how to cycle safely on today's roads.

There are three Bikeability levels, each designed to improve cycling skills, taking trainees from the basics of balance and control, all the way to planning and making an independent journey on busier roads.

Bikeability trainers, Mr A. Magee and Mr J. Brown from the West Lancashire School Sports Partnership said: ""Bikeability is government-recognised, practical and professional training, and we know that the young cyclists are more skilled and more confident once they've taken part.

"Youngsters who successfully complete the scheme receive a badge and certificate in recognition of the level they've achieved."

Council officers recommend approval of cycle path proposal - again

Report by Henry James

OFFICERS are once again recommending approval of proposals to build a £500,000 cycle route running through Skelmersdale's Tawd Valley when they are discussed by councillors at West Lancs Council's planning committee meeting tomorrow (Thursday, July 28).

That was the same advice put forward at the original hearing of the application at the planning committee in June but councillors decided to defer a decision to allow them to undertake a site visit.

The application has been made by Lancashire County Council and the proposed comprises an existing footpath which will be upgraded and extended within Tawd Valley Park.

The proposed route will start from the north at Irwell and extend to the south for about 2km joining with Skelmersdale town centre, south of the library.

There will be a route off the footpath at about the halfway point which will meet with Ingleswhite and West Lancashire College.

The idea is to create a three-metre wide lit dual-use foot/cycleway.

Officers write in a report for the meeting that: "The footpath will connect and draw people to the town centre, thereby supporting Skelmersdale's economy.

"It will encourage environmentally friendly modes of transport and will allow people to engage with the natural environment while routing them to their destination and promoting better connectivity within the town."

Concerns

The officers have also said that the scheme will not have a "significant detrimental impact on the appearance of the landscape."

There had been some concerns about the impact of the scheme on bats, but the lights will have sensors to avoid any light pollution and officers believe this will limit the impact upon bats within the area.

Officers believe the cycle route will have "no detrimental impact" upon the trees.

The Coal Authority has said that "the coal mining legacy potentially poses a risk to some parts of the route" and they want to see investigation works undertaken prior to work starting to "establish the exact situation regarding coal mining legacy issues on the site."

However, council officers are satisfied that the works "do not warrant full intrusive site investigations."

Officers have concluded: "The proposed development is acceptable in principle and will provide a much-needed dual-use route to Skelmersdale town centre from West Lancashire College and the surrounding residential areas.

"Subject to conditions satisfactory mitigation can be provided for any loss of biodiversity."

Police issue steer clear of quarries warning floor that can shift and move.

"Other hazards include falling off ledges and being struck by rock fall.

"We are urging young people to consider the consequences of what they may consider a bit of harmless fun.

"And parents, please be mindful of where your children are at evenings, weekends and during holidays, especially during hot weather.

"Yet again large numbers of youths have put their lives at risk by scaling dangerously sharp perimeter fences and swimming in the quarry. Lives have been lost by people entering the water and getting in to difficulties very quickly."

Council invite residents to have their say on budget proposals

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS and organisations in West Lancashire are being invited to give their views on the borough council's proposals for savings of more than £750,000 in the General Revenue Budget, which include introducing a £30 charge to collect garden waste.

Service users and residents, along with local organisations and businesses, can give their views through the council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/yourviews.

Comments can also be submitted by letter and email.

The closing date is September 4 and the council will make final decisions in October for implementation in 2017/18.

The main proposals are:

Introducing an annual charge of £30 to collect garden waste.

Ceasing garden waste collections during the winter.

'Modest reductions' in the number of CCTV cameras in areas with lower crime rates and in live monitoring during off-peak periods.

A review of street cleaning work.

A new approach to public toilets provision.

Councillor Chris Wynn, the council's cabinet member for finance, said: "It is important that people take the opportunity to give their views on these proposals so the council can take them into account before final decisions are made.

Councillor Chris Wynn

"Earlier this year we carried out a survey to gather views on spending priorities and satisfaction with services, and these proposals have been informed by those results."

The council is seeking views from individuals and organisations and is working with West Lancashire CVS to contact local voluntary and community groups, businesses, and other organisations to invite them to take part.

However, it is stressed that the consultation is open to all. Any organisation can complete the survey and all residents can take part. Paper copies of the surveys can be provided if requested.

Meanwhile opposition councillors are critical of the proposals.

Conservative group leader, Councillor David Westley, said: "The Labour administration has nothing to show for its first year in control apart from increased council tax, cuts in services and the approval of more than £5m of debt.

"Labour is quite clearly relying on their tried and tested solution of hiking up council tax, taking on substantial debt and slashing front-line services."

And Our West Lancashire representative for Derby ward, Councillor Adrian Owens commented: "Given that the council underspent by more than £600,000 last year, many of these proposals should simply be consigned to the dustbin.

"To give just one example, to propose reduced CCTV monitoring just weeks after spending more money on installing extra cameras is madness. There are other equally damaging proposals and they should be scrapped and the process re-started."

Council tenants are also being consulted on over £6m savings between 2017/18 and 2019/20.

Appeal for information after motorcyclist is killed in collision

A MOTORCYCLIST who died following a collision with a lorry in West Lancashire last Wednesday night (July 20) has been named as 20-year-old John Dalton from Standish.

Police are appealing for information about the incident which occurred at about 10.15pm on Course Lane, Newburgh.

On arrival at the scene officers found Mr Dalton with multiple injuries close to the Tawd Vale campsite. He was treated by paramedics but was later pronounced dead.

Police believe Mr Dalton had been riding his Yamaha motorbike eastbound on Course Lane when he collided with the Man lorry travelling in the opposite direction.

The lorry driver, a 41-year-old man from Ormskirk, was uninjured.

The road was closed for more than four hours while accident investigators attended the scene.

Police are keen to speak to anyone who may have witnessed the collision.

Sergeant James Power, of Lancashire Police, said: "This is a tragic incident and our thoughts are with this man's family.

"We are appealing for information about the collision and would be particularly keen to speak to anyone who may have seen the motorbike in the area before the incident."

Anyone with information can call police on 101.

Meanwhile, John Dalton's family have issued the following statement: "There are no words to describe the pain and devastation we feel as a family.

"John Francis Dalton was a loving son and brother, with his whole life ahead of him. He was full of life and enthusiasm and always made us laugh. He was warm and kind-hearted and liked by everyone who had the pleasure of knowing him.

"We want to thank everyone for their kind words of support at this difficult time and we would also wish to thank the police and paramedics, including an off-duty doctor who was driving behind the accident, for all their help trying to save John at the scene that night.

"This tragic accident has left a hole in the heart of our family that can never be filled."

Garden centre boss pledge after licence bid approval

THE owner of the Warbreck Garden Centre in Lathom has given reassurances to neighbours after being granted a licence to sell alcohol and hold music events.

Although residents living near to the centre in Lyelake Lane had raised concerns about potential disturbance, members of West Lancs Council's licensing sub-committee granted the licence allowing the centre to serve alcohol from 9am to 11pm all week.

It will also be allowed to play live and recorded music at certain times.

Following the granting of the application, garden centre owner, Richard Allinson commented: "I am very aware of the concerns of our neighbours and will ensure that the events at the garden centre will operate in a way to minimise disruption to the day-to-day life of residents.

'Minimal impact'

"The events we are looking to hold will have minimal impact on our neighbours. Ultimately I want them to be proud to have us as their neighbours.

"We are not looking at holding 18th and 21st birthday parties but we are planning on holding 'Rat Pack' nights for middle-aged people."

"I was advised to revise my original application to allow for later serving times to provide us with more flexibility. In reality we have no intention of operating so late given the mature nature of our clientele, the type of events and staff working hours.

"Events will remain infrequent. We are primarily a daytime leisure venue and have no desire to change that."

Fine Art, Antiques and Jewellery Valuations

Thomas Watson Auctioneers are again teaming up with Southport Auctions to offer free valuations of fine art, antiques and jewellery in the Southport area.

The auctioneers held a similar event in May which, as expert David Elstob explains, was a great success "The standard of items last time was excellent with particularly good coins and paintings including a fabulous oil painting by James Lawrence Isherwood. A great number of the items were things that had been in the back of the cupboard for years and many people were very pleasantry surprised at how much their objects sold for at auction".

David is an alumnus of the University of Central Lancashire, where he studied for a Master of Arts degree in Antiques, and a member of the National Association of Valuers and Auctioneers. Strike up the band!

LIVE music lovers are in for a treat at this year's fantastic free Summer Music Festival in Coronation Park, Ormskirk starting on Saturday, July 30.

Groups playing music ranging from blues and Merseybeat to ska and two tone will be performing at the bandstand on Saturday afternoons, while local brass bands take centre stage on Sundays.

All concerts begin at 2pm and end at around 4pm and some seating will be provided for those who prefer to sit down and relax while enjoying the music.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "Listening to live music is a great way to spend a summer afternoon, particularly when you can do it in lovely surroundings like Coronation Park, so come along and enjoy the music."

The Saturday line-up of bands is as follows:

July 30: Wayne Carrick Band (blues and covers band).

August 6: Ukes At The Wharf (local ukelele band).

August 13: Searchin (Merseybeat sound from the 60s).

August 20: Red Eyed Jedi (best of local ska and two tone beats with brass section).

Music lovers in for a treat as month-long festival gets underway

August 27: George's Big Shed (straight from Shedbeat Studios, rock, pop and blues originals).

Sunday brass bands performing are as follows:

July 31: Skelmersdale Prize Band.

August 7: Flixton Brass Band.

August 14: Coppull and Standish Brass Band.

August 21: Farnworth and Walkden Band.

August 28: Trinity Girls Brass Band.

In the event of inclement weather please check with the park ranger on 01695 570258 that the bands are still playing.

Trinity Girls Brass Band will be performing on the same day that Ormskirk MotorFest takes place. Cars will be on display in the park and around Ormskirk town centre.

Skem to play Enfield again to celebrate 1967 Wembley final

SKELMERSDALE and its footballing fraternity will this week start celebrations for the 50th anniversary years since their side ran out on the hallowed turf at Wembley.

In 1967, almost the entire population of a small town decamped and traveled to North London, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Skelmersdale United have chosen to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their great Wembley occasion with two clashes against their opponents from that historic day - Enfield.

This year, on the 49th anniversary the team from Enfield will travel to Skelmersdale for a commemorative clash on Saturday, July 30.

And next year, Skem will head down south for the return leg at Enfield, on a date sometime between July and August 2017.

Despite this only being the 49th year since the cup clash, both games will mark the 50th anniversary

Skelmersdale's Wembley meeting with Enfield in the 1967 FA Amateur Cup Final was actually played on Saturday May 22, ending in a 0-0 draw, with a replay at Manchester City's Maine Road a week later.

Although Skelmersdale ultimately lost

The programme from the final

the replay 3-0, stories abound about how 'the whole town' went down to London for the day are part of the town's folklore now.

Both Skelmersdale and Enfield had agreed to replay the Final at their home grounds.

The momentum of support in the town had built up as the competition progressed through 1966/67.

In the quarter-final Skem were drawn away at Slough. After a 2-2 draw in Berkshire, an almost unbelievable 7,500 watched Skem win the replay 1-0 with an Alan Bermingham goal.

Two draws with Hendon in the semi-final forced a second replay where 18 year old winger Norman Whitehead was the star of the show that night, scoring one and creating another as Skem prevailed 3-1.

For the final the crowd at Wembley was 75,000 and it is said that Skelmersdale was empty.

The match at Wembley ended 0-0 and Enfield won the replay at Maine Road Manchester. Skelmersdale were to win the FA Amateur Cup in 1971, when they defeated Dagenham at Wembley, but the 1967 Wembley appearance will always be remembered as the match that changed a football club and created legends as most of the team were just local lads.

Now 49 years on the first game will be a day to remember.

Of the Skelmersdale team from 1967, Alan Bermingham, John Unsworth, Richie Wade, Dave Moorcroft, Micky Worswick, Wally Bennett, Micky Burns and Alan McDermott have all promised to make an appearance.

Comic Jackie to star in short film

Jackie Hagan will star in a short film on Channel 4

A COMEDIAN born and raised in Skelmersdale who had to have her leg amputated three years ago has appeared in a short film on the Channel 4 website.

Jackie Hagan had gone into hospital in 2013 with pain in her toe in her right leg and five months later doctors decided to amputate it.

Doctors found that a spasm had caused a cluster of blood clots in the main artery in the leg and worried that it would lead to more clots, so decided to amputate the leg.

The short film, commissioned by Channel 4, is part of a series of documentaries called 'Limb Pimpin' designed to raise awareness of how paraplegics make the best use of missing limbs.

It encapsulates how Jackie is doing these days and how she prepares just hours before a live performance.

It shows Jackie Hagan attaching lights to her false leg, which she describes as looking more like her than her human leg does.

She said: "It is like having Blackpool lights on your leg.

"You get quite a lot of attention from kids and drunk men. The reason I decorate my leg as I thought it would look like something from Robocop and look really cool and it was horrible."

She is also shown downing champagne out of her false leg and shopping at Affleck's Palace in Manchester, where she now lives. when she performs.

Arctic Convoy veteran Jack Hall with his daughter Rosemarie at last weekend's family fun event organised by Skelmersdale Ex Services Association.

Military-themed family fun event goes down great guns!

THERE were activities for all ages at the Skelmersdale Ex Services Association Military Themed Family Fun Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24, at Blaguegate Playing Fields, Liverpool Road.

As well as various military exhibits other attractions included an assault course, a rodeo bull, live bands, bouncy castles, climbing walls, face painting, fire engines, funfair, mini tanks, archery, beer tent, hog roast and a BBQ.

There were also free vintage bus rides from the Concourse on the Sunday.

Harry Mackenzie from the Skelmersdale Ex Services Association said: "We are planning on making this a yearly event. This was the first time we had held it over two days and we were raising money for military charities.

"Young people asked lots of questions and it gave them a little insight into life in the military.

"We have been organising the show for about five months and I have been speaking to various people who have said they really enjoyed it. It went really well.

"Among the highlights were the military vehicles from the Airborne Comrades Association from Barnsley. They put on a good display. They had soft rounds that people could fire at targets. We also had Shetland ponies and racing pigs on the Sunday.

"I would like to thank Asda for allowing us to collect at the store. I also want to thank John Nelson at the council, Mike Vella and Charlie at JMO."

There were activities to appeal to all ages

Samba comes to Skelmersdale...

A TASTE of samba came to Skelmersdale when youngsters at a local primary school took part in a week of activities to mark the forthcoming Olympic Games in Rio.

Staff at Woodland Community Primary in Heathgate organised the event to enable pupils to experience different sports and learn the Olympic values.

Originally it was planned to start the week with a carnival around the Birch Green estate but the original date had to be postponed because of bad weather.

However the children made headdresses and designed T-shirts, flags and decorations for the parade and instead of floats, Asda lent the school 12 trollies which each team decorated to play their part in the carnival parade.

Children also took part in a number of sports, including fencing, football, golf, swimming, and athletics.

And a school song was written which was sung to the residents of Birch Green Care Home in Ivydale.

Keeley Taberner, deputy head at the school said: "The event was run at the end of term and the children were able to try out new sports which they enjoyed taking part in.

"We have a themed week every year in the summer. We adopted an Olympic theme in 2012 when the games were held in London and decided to do the same this year to tie in with the Rio Olympics."

Police seek 22-year-old in connection with community order breach

POLICE are seeking the public's help to trace a man wanted in connection with the breaching of a community order.

Twenty-two-year-old Liam Stocks (pictured, right) is believe to be in the Skelmersdale area.

Detective Sergeant Graeme Simpson, of Lancashire Police, said: "Enquiries are continuing into locating Stocks. Anyone who has seen him or knows of his whereabouts is urged to contact police as soon as possible.

"Similarly, if Stocks sees this appeal I would advise him to hand himself in."

Anyone with information can contact police on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or online at crimestoppers-uk.org.

Families move in as council's £8m Firbeck Revival Project nears completion

FAMILIES are starting to move into new council homes on the Firbeck estate in Skelmersdale - and more new properties will soon be available to rent in the final phase of the £8 million Firbeck Revival Project.

Community regeneration specialist, Keepmoat is building 42 new homes on the estate on behalf of West Lancs Council.

Some of the properties were ready for people to move into in late spring and the final ones will be available to rent in August 2016. All have been built to suit the requirements of modern families.

Anyone interested in renting the new properties is advice to keep checking the websites www.westlancshomefinder.co.uk or www.facebook.com /west.lancs.homefinder for details of when they will be available.

These are just the second set of new council homes built in West Lancashire in the last 20 years and consist of 14 one-bedroom and 12-two bedroom apartments, and 12 two-bedroom and four three-bedroom houses.

Some of the new apartments have the appearance of semi-detached houses, while the council says all 42 homes are attractive, energy-efficient properties with gas central heating.

Each flat also has its own parking space and allocated garden area and the properties are fitted with bat boxes to house creatures living in the nearby woods, supporting a habitat for an endangered species.

Councillor Jenny Patterson

Councillor Jenny Patterson, the council's portfolio holder for housing and landlord services, said: "I am delighted that the final batch of new homes on Firbeck will soon be available for families to move into. The whole Firbeck project has been a fantastic success and shows what can be achieved when we all work together."

Keepmoat is the principal contractor building the houses and flats to the council's specifications. Their services were acquired through the Procure Plus framework. Arcus are providing architectural and employer's agent services for the project.

Frank Mondino, area director for Keepmoat in the North West, said: "All partners involved in this project have worked cohesively and with a shared view of encouraging local input.

"We have maintained our commitment to communicating effectively with tenants and residents and their support has played a key part in the success so far.

"We look forward to welcoming our final residents and showcasing this great new development."

The council has said the Firbeck Revival Project, which forms part of the wider Skelmersdale Town Centre Regeneration Project, was drawn up after "extensive consultation" with tenants and residents about how they wanted their homes to be improved.

As well as the new homes the council has said the project has seen a number of other "major improvements" to the estate which they say will benefit people living on the estate for years to come.

The council-owned properties have had new kitchens and bathrooms installed, while a programme of external work transformed the appearance of the estate with double-glazed windows, doors, new roofs and loft insulation.

Brick bin stores at the front of the houses were removed and new canopies fitted over the front doors.

Meanwhile all private home owners on Firbeck took up council grants (repayable when properties are sold) to have some or all of the external improvements carried out to their homes.

Man's body found on company premises

POLICE say there are no suspicious circumstances surrounding the discovery of a man's body on the premises of a building company in Skelmersdale.

The body of 45-year-old Stephen Platts, a former employee of the company, was discovered at Stackright Building Systems Ltd. in Gardiners Place, at around 7am on Wednesday, July 20.

A spokesman for Stackright said: "Our thoughts go out to his family and friends at this sad time."

And a spokeswoman for Lancashire Police confirmed: "At 7am on Wednesday, July 20 the body of a man was found in the premises of Stackright, Gardiners Place.

"The 45-year-old was pronounced dead at the scene. There are no suspicious circumstances and a file will be passed to the coroner."

Hospital trust signs up to midwives charter

Report by Ollie Cowan

Ormskirk maternity staff sign the charter

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust has become one of the first in the UK to sign up to the Royal College of Midwives (RCM) Caring for You Charter.

The charter, one of the cornerstones of the RCM's Caring for You campaign, aims to improve services for women and babies by improving the wellbeing of staff.

Launched in June, the campaign encourages all trusts across the UK to sign-up to the charter which commits them to working with the RCM's health and safety representatives to improve the health, safety and wellbeing at work of midwives, student midwives and maternity support workers who in turn will be able to provide even better care for women, babies and their families.

The RCM believes that heads of midwifery working in partnership with the college's health and safety representatives makes a difference by lowering stress levels resulting in improved care for patients and their families.

Robin Rootes, RCM steward and health and safety representative at the Southport and Ormskirk Trust, said: "We are delighted to sign this charter and are committed to embedding its core components within maternity services.

"This will build on the good work already underway in maternity. Health and wellbeing of our staff is crucial to having a successful maternity unit."

Lynne Eastham, head of nursing & midwifery at the trust, added: "Our excellent staff support the delivery of more than 2,500 babies each year. They do a magnificent job and we are committed to offering them the right support to enable them to do their jobs. We are pleased to be one of the first trusts in the UK to sign up to this charter."

Lesley Wood, the RCM's regional officer for the North West, commented: "I am delighted that the Southport and Ormskirk Trust have signed the charter. They have a committed team of midwives and maternity support workers and I welcome their commitment to staff and the people they care for."

Primary schools celebrate good report from Ofsted

OFFICIALS of a joint Skelmersdale and Up Holland school working group are celebrating after all primary schools in the two areas were rated as 'good' or 'outstanding' by government watchdog Ofsted.

The Skelmersdale and Up Holland Headteacher Association for Raising Educational Standards partnership (SHARES), made up of primary schools working together to ensure that children across the area have the best possible education, has welcomed the news.

And the group have issued the following statement: "Sharing good practice, supporting each other and working together for maximum impact are the core values of the group that have led them on the path to success.

"Examples of the joint work can be seen in the joint programme of continuous professional development for all school staff that ensures high standards are maintained across the cluster and this led to the cluster being awarded Teaching School status, one of the first in Lancashire."

The SHARES cluster has also operated a Pupil Parliament for many years which they say has allowed children to be involved in important decisions within the community. Recently they chose the design for and named the new development at Beacon Country Park.

Last year SHARES started to deliver their own school swimming package and a spokeswoman said it had seen an "improvement in the quality of swimming education and has been recognised as excellent practice by outside agencies.

Parents have also praised the quality of the school holiday provision that the cluster provides with children able to engage in activities from 9am to 4.30pm each day.

And other initiatives that the group have developed to support children and families have praised and celebrated by Ofsted, the Local Education Authority, TES and the National College of Teaching and Learning.

A spokesman for SHARES concluded: "The schools will continue to work in partnership to give children in Skelmersdale and Up Holland a fantastic range of educational and social opportunities to ensure that they reach their maximum potential.

Drug-driver banned

A COURT has heard how a young Skelmersdale man will lose his job after being caught drug-driving.

Andrew Page, prosecuting at Sefton Magistrates Court on July 20 said that Dale Rimmer, 20, of Ledburn, was stopped by police on Gorsey Lane, Litherland, on May 8 because he appeared to be exceeding the speed limit and driving erratically.

Upon talking to him officers noticed that he was speaking quickly and that his pupils were dilated. "He was showing all the signs of having taken controlled drugs."

After failing a road-side drugs test Rimmer was arrested and subsequent tests showed that he had 712 micrograms of benzoylecgonine per litre of his blood (the legal limit being 50mcg/litre), and also 48 micrograms of cocaine per litre (the legal limit being 10mcg/litre).

Solicitor Mike Flynn emphasised Rimmer's co-operation with the officers and said that being in trouble with the police was an "alien experience" for him.

He told the court that Rimmer had not been taking the cocaine on the night he was stopped but that the drugs were still in his system from a previous occasion.

Telling the court that he was a trainee surveyor, he added: "He works throughout the UK. Losing his licence means he will also lose his job. And he will not be able to complete his training.

"Therefore, as a result of a one-off foolish incident he will be losing his job, his training and his career."

Fining him £200 and ordering that he pay £115 in costs and victim surcharge, the magistrates banned him from driving for 12 months.

Matalan put their shirts - and shorts - on Men-Aces!

FASHION and homeware retailer Matalan have presented the Skem Men-Aces disability football club with shorts and T-shirts as a reward for the club being presented with Queen's Award for Voluntary Service.

Bosses at the company, now based in neighbouring Knowsley, were delighted when one of their employees Miriam Eaton, who is also a coach with the Men-Aces, told them about the trip to Buckingham Palace to collect the award.

And they agreed to kit the lads out in the shorts and T-shirts as recognition for their efforts.

Miriam commented: "Matalan went the extra mile and I couldn't believe their generosity. When I explained that some of the lads were of a certain size and it's quite difficult to kit them out, they arranged for bespoke shirts to be made. This was a fantastic gesture, and we are so grateful.

"We would like to thank Matalan from the bottom of our hearts, especially the team that organised the order and arranged the making of various sizes.

"Most of our lads come from deprived backgrounds but we like them all to be equal and this kit looks so smart and it certainly put a lot of smiles on their faces."

Team have 'grand' hopes for charity walk total...

MEANWHILE the Men-Aces have once again completed their annual charity event.

Each year the club try to come up with an event that all players can participate in, regardless of their ability, to raise money for a good cause.

This year they staged a 24-hour walk - from 11am on a Saturday to 11am Sunday - around Skemersdale United's pitch in aid of local youngsters Callum, Maycee and Jack Senior.

The siblings all suffer from mitochondrial disease, an inherited chronic illness, for which there is no cure, that causes debilitating physical, developmental and cognitive disabilities.

Men-aces official Miriam Eaton said: "By 7am on the Sunday we were struggling so we posted a request on Facebook asking for motivation and encouragement and to our amazement a sea of supporters came down to lift our energy.

"Representatives of other charities we have helped over the years also came along to support us as did the mayor, Councillor Liz Savage.

"I'd like to thank them all but particularly Anita and Graham Abbot from Skemersdale United for making the challenge possible and making us feel welcome, and Steve McDonald from West Lancs College for keeping us supple with energising massages.

"When all the sponsorship money is in we hope to raise in excess of £1,000 to help support the Senior family."

Church's £16,000 fundraising drive for graveyard extension

Report by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of a church congregation have launched an unusual fundraising appeal - aiming to raise almost £16,000 to extend their graveyard.

The Parochial Church Council (PCC) at Holy Trinity Church, Bickerstaffe have set up an online donations page at crowdfunder.co.uk and are hoping to raise £15,998 by the end of the year.

The 19th-century church's graveyard is nearly full and they are hoping to raise the funds to extend it by an additional 300 plots.

The fundraising drive is being organised by worshipper and PCC member, Edward McCarth.

As well as arranging a number of events and fundraisers, the group are also applying for various grants to help reach their target before the current graveyard reaches its capacity, estimated to be around December.

The funds are needed to pay for the levelling and re-turfing of a field owned by the church at the rear of the churchyard, which would be used to extend the graveyard. A new entrance would also be required to link the graveyards, along with landscaping and hedging.

The congregation are hoping to start the first phase of the work in the autumn.

Edward McCarthy said: "Holy Trinity is a lovely church serving the rural community of Bickerstaffe. The church was built in 1843 and is used not just on Sunday but for a wide range of other community activities and events.

"Now we need help to fund the churchyard extension as our graveyard is nearly full. Local families want a local burial facility to be sustained here in Bickerstaffe. The alternative would mean families having to travel at least 10 miles, bearing in mind the rural nature of the parish and poor transport links, causing hardship for the bereaved.

The graveyard at Holy Trinity Church, Bickerstaffe

"The project involves work to the church wall, spraying of the site, levelling, digger hire, path and turf-laying, the purchase of timber fencing and a new gateway and landscaping and hedging.

"Although financial support is paramount, we would also welcome practical support from local people willing to become involved in the work."

To make a donation or for more information visit the church, call Edward on 07971299606 or visit crowdfunder.co.uk/bickerstaffe-holy-trinity-church-project.

Boots at the ready for borough walking festival

MEMBERS of the public are being invited to pull on their boots and take a 'walk on the wild side' over the next month by taking part in the West Lancashire Walking Festival.

Organised by West Lancs Council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service in partnership with walk leaders from different organisation, the festival offers opportunities to learn about local wildlife, as well as enjoying tours of the borough's towns and countryside.

The aim is to provide routes that cover as much of West Lancashire as possible, all the walks are free and there is something to suit all abilities, from short themed walks to long-distance rambles.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, the council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "There are some lovely events planned for the West Lancashire Walking Festival so come and join in. You will see some beautiful countryside and parts of the borough you may never have seen before."

There is no need to book for any of the walks, but people wishing to join in are asked to turn up to the meeting point 10 minutes before walks are due to start to ensure they set off on time.

The first walk is an eight-mile circular jaunt around Hunter's Hill on Saturday, July 30, starting at 10am.

This will be followed by another eight-mile circular route on Sunday, July 31, taking in Lathom and starting from Ruff Wood at 10am.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen

The other walks are as follows:

Wednesday, August 3, Martin Mere Reedbed walk (two miles) meet at 10am at Martin Mere.

Saturday, August 6, Tarleton circular (seven miles) meet 10am at Tarleton library.

Sunday, August 7, Gorse Hill Nature Reserve (four miles) meet 1pm at the reserve.

Tuesday, August 9, Burscough circular (six miles) meet 10am at Platts Lane.

Saturday, August 13, useful and medicinal plants (four miles) meet 10am at Beacon Country Park.

Sunday, August 14, Beacon Canal Loop (eight miles) meet 10am at Beacon Country Park.

Tuesday, August 16, Mere Sands Wood (four miles) meet 10am at Mere Sands Wood.

Saturday, August 20, Ormskirk bat walk (two miles) meet 8pm at Coronation Park.

Sunday, August 21, Fairy Glen circular (eight miles) meet 10am at Fairy Glen.

Wednesday, August 24, Ormskirk circular (six miles) meet 10am at Coronation Park.

Saturday, August 27, Burscough Wetlands (12 miles) meet 10am at Platts Lane.

Sunday, August 28 Beacon bat walk (four miles) meet 8.30pm at Beacon Country Park.

Walks are open to all but anyone under the age of 14 should be accompanied by an adult aged 18 or older. Please ensure that you wear clothing and footwear to walk through uneven/countryside terrain.

Longer walks will have a scheduled lunch stop and you will require a packed lunch. It is good practice to carry a drink with you on all walks.

Dogs are not allowed on the Martin Mere walks but are welcome on the others. In the case of bad weather check with the rangers if walks will go ahead.

For more information go to www.westlancs.gov.uk/walking-festival; call the rangers on 01695 622794, or email beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Bowlers seek site for new 'home'

Report by Danielle Thompson

MEMBERS of a village bowling club who are being turfed out of their home for the past eight decades have launched an urgent search to find an alternative location in West Lancashire to build a new green.

The Halton Castle Bowling Club have been based at the Halton Castle Inn in Westhead for more than 82 years.

However, brewers Marston's have now sold the pub in Crosshall Brow, along with the bowling green and car park, leaving the trundlers seeking a new base.

The new owner is allowing them to play on at the venue until the current bowling season finishes at the end of September and has also agreed to fund a new green when the members find a site.

In the meantime the bowlers will be faced with having to share another club's facilities when the new season starts in April next year.

And they are keen to pinpoint a suitable location for their new green as quickly as possible to hopefully have a home of their own in time for the 2018 season.

Halton Castle Bowling Club secretary Eric Barklem on the pub green which the club has to leave after 82 years

AGREEMENT

Club secretary Eric Barklem told the Champion: "The bowling green and car park has been sold by Marston's brewery and the pub is now closed. The new owner has agreed to honour the agreement between the bowling club and the brewery to allow us to continue bowling there until the end of the season, with access to toilet facilities.

"He has also agreed to provide us with a new bowling green at a location specified by us and we hope to have one built locally but the site we wanted is sadly no longer available.

"When the Champion first revealed in April that we were to be evicted we were contacted by many clubs offering us the use of their greens until the end of the season to fulfil our fixtures.

"This would have been fine in the short term but we have to consider our long-term future as two teams bowl at the Halton Castle - Halton Castle and Castle Lane - and we are hoping that we can remain together at our new green.

"We need to find a new location for both teams where we can have a green built and with parking.

"We'd also like to thank all teams and clubs who offered their support when we first learned we were to be evicted and in the meantime we would be very grateful to find somewhere we can bowl for the next two years."

Anyone who can help can contact Eric by email at eric.barklem@talktalk.net or by calling 01695 420236.

Agency warning to farmers and landowners over illegal waste storage

THE Environment Agency is warning farmers and landowners of an increase in the illegal storage of baled mixed waste.

Over the last two months, there has been an increase in the illegal deposit of baled mixed municipal waste badged under the term of Refuse Derived Fuel (RDF).

The Environment Agency has said landowners are being approached with a request to store the bales for a number of months while 'an energy plant is in place' at which point the bales would be collected. Farmers have been offered between £600 to £1,200 for three months storage.

Andy Coleman, from the Environment Agency's waste team, said: "While this may sound appealing to landowners/farmers, it is not legal. There are no permits in place to regulate this activity.

"The bales are poorly wrapped and are often split when delivered causing the contents to spill out. There is a high risk of waste fires and fly infestations due to the waste not being stored in the correct manner.

"Consequently, farmers are putting themselves at risk of enforcement action being taken against them if they allow the storage to take place. Any farmer who has been approached to store such waste or is currently storing such waste is urged to contact the Environment Agency via the 24-hour incident hot-line 0800 807060."

There is a strong suspicion that the bales will never be collected thus leaving the landowners with an expensive clearance bill.

Adam Briggs, Lancashire County adviser for the National Farmers Union, added: "Farmers need to keep in mind their duty of care with regards to waste and the paperwork requirements. An environmental permit or waste exemption is needed to store or use waste material.

"If farmers are asked to store baled mixed municipal waste, even on a short-term basis, they should refuse the material and contact the Environment Agency to seek further advice."

Cheryl and Lisa from Community Link Foundation with hospital staff in the new relatives' room

New relatives room opens at hospital

A NEW relatives' room has opened at Southport Hospital to allow nurses to talk to families in confidence.

The hospital has a busy A&E department which lacked an area for private discussions and Community Link Foundation has funded the new room to offer a tranquil space away from the wards.

A&E sister Colette Henshaw, said: "We are really grateful for Community Link Foundation for supporting this new room.

"There are times when medics will sometimes need to tell tragic news to families. This room provides a calming and private area for those extremely important discussions."

The relatives' room has a phone line and tea-making facilities with mugs kindly donated by Sainsbury's in Southport.

Cheryl Gradwell, Community Link Foundation trustee and board member, said: "The foundation was unanimous in its support for this new room. It's important to have a space where families can gather their thoughts when they are told they have lost a loved one."

Cheryl, who lost her husband Christopher four years ago, was told the tragic news at A&E. "It's something you would never want to go through. I think I may have been able to gather my thoughts a little better had I been told in a room like this.

"I'm very pleased to see this room now open where hospital staff can give support to families when they need it most."

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

Caring ambulance and A&E staff deserve the highest praise

THROUGH the Champion my family and I would like to thank the ambulance service.

Between November last year and April this year I was admitted to Southport Hospital five times.

On every occasion the paramedics and technicians could not have done more to reassure me and respect my needs, continuously explaining what they were doing in a caring manner whilst at the same time showing complete professionalism.

I feel that they don't get the respect they deserve, especially with the demanding nature of their job.

I would also like to mention all the staff at the A&E for the ongoing high standards of care given whilst working in such a pressured environment.

I and many others truly appreciate what you do, so once again thank you.

Sue O, Westhead

Fantastic letter made my day!

IT was fantastic to read Mr Marsh's letter (Champion, July 20). It made my day!

Scouting really does offer young people a better start in life. It has given me countless opportunities that I wouldn't have otherwise had. The leadership skills that I have developed have helped me immensely throughout my education, especially university.

I hope that throughout my time as District Youth Commissioner for Ormskirk that I can ensure Scouting in Ormskirk equips young people with the skills and confidence they need to be successful.

So, I'd like to echo Mr Marsh and say that if you can offer any support, please do. Scouting is a fantastic organisation I'm proud to be part of.

Becca Webster, District Youth Commissioner, Ormskirk District Scouts

There are far more important things in life than a road sign

I JUST had to write about the very funny Ron Dennis (Letters, July 20) and about how he does not like the fact that the Up Holland sign has been taken down and he does not like to be associated with Skelmersdale.

Well, I find it interesting that he hates Skem so much but he is more than happy to read the Skelmersdale Champion and also write to the Skelmersdale Champion, but best yet he is more than happy to drive through Skelmersdale when he has to use his car - I bet he even shops in Skelmersdale.

Maybe he ought to drive on the M58 instead of having to come to such an awful place as Skem?

I really had no idea that Up Holland was THE place to live.

He must lead a very sad life if all he can worry about is a sign. There are far more important things in life.

David Jenkins, by email

'Wrapped-up prejudice' was a slight on our town

GIVEN Mr Dennis' clearly-stated dislike of anything that might suggest that Skelmersdale is near Up Holland (Letters, July 20) I find his assertion that the missing sign somehow managed to create for him a boundary line that was 'away from the close proximity to Skem' a little disconcerting.

The boundary is where the two meet, unlike the minds of Mr Dennis and myself and I hope those of lots of other Skemmers reading his slight on our town.

Creating a lament for the sign in which to wrap his prejudice made for a very sad letter.

M J Brown, Skelmersdale

If you don't like Skem just move!

IN response to the letter headed 'Why have they taken down our sign' (Champion, July 20), well Ron Dennis I hate to disappoint you but your actual postal address is Daybrook, Up Holland Skelmersdale and your postcode is , WN8 - I'm surprised you never paid to get that changed as well.

So, unfortunately for you, you live in Skelmersdale.

I don't know why you have a low opinion of Skelmersdale but I suggest you move if you don't like Skelmersdale.

I wonder if you want the Champion re-naming as well, you wouldn't want to be seen reading the Skelmersdale Champion.

Sharon, annoyed Skelmersdale resident

Bike ban will put off shoppers

I AGREE wholeheartedly with Mr Ron Webster's letter (Champion, July 20) about the Concourse ban on bicycles.

The feeble bike stands outside the Concourse are next to useless and afford no security to cycles.

People are paying extremely high prices for a lot of today's bikes and no insurance company would pay out if you had a bike stolen from one of these stands.

I would like to ask the Concourse management if this was done on an issue of safety as I see no difference in pushing a bike through the Concourse than a pram, disabled scooter or a shopping trolley.

I have been injured by two of the aforementioned items whilst in the Concourse, but never by a bike!

I hope the shop owners realise that what the Concourse is doing is putting people off shopping there.

I, for one, will go elsewhere when I am on my bike - your loss, Concourse.

Bill Sealey, via email

Scarecrows really brighten up drive through village

I JUST wanted to say a BIG thank-you to all the residents of Halsall who have made it such a pleasure to drive through the village, due to their wonderful community-spirited Scarecrow competition entries.

It is heartwarming to see how many people have become involved with this event - it brings a smile to my face every time I visit (especially when I drive past Mr Potato Head).

;-) Thank you.

Amanda Bennett, Bickerstaffe

West Lancs section of bypass cycle path is a disgrace

HAS anyone brought to your attention the state of the cycle path on the Rainford bypass once you leave St Helens behind and enter into West Lancashire?

It will shortly force cyclists to either dismount or worse still ride on the dual carriageway.

The problem is the unchecked growth of trees, bushes and shrubs which in several places has reduced the path to a matter of inches in places.

I have contacted Councillor Fillis, but apart from an acknowledgement the problem remains.

County's primary pupils shine in Key Stage tests

LANCASHIRE County Council's education chief has praised the performances of the county's primary school pupils in recent national tests.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, the authority's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "I'm really pleased with this year's Key Stage 1 and 2 results.

"The Key Stage 1 results for seven-year-olds and Key Stage 2 results for 11-year-olds both show that our primary school children are doing well, above the national average in some key areas and this is definitely something worth celebrating.

"Provisional results for Key Stage 1 indicate that 60.9% of Lancashire pupils have reached the expected standard in reading, writing and mathematics combined, higher than the national average, while 53.4% of pupils reached this standard for Key Stage 2, again higher than the average across the country.

"I'm aware that the new curriculum and examinations have caused some concerns for both teachers and parents so these results are particularly pleasing. Although they can't be compared to last year, I'm satisfied that our results are either in line or slightly above the national average. They are a compliment to our primary school staff, governors, parents and of course the children themselves.

"Lancashire County Council staff support almost all of our primary schools and it is great to know that they are helping them to build such strong foundations for when pupils move on to secondary school."

Honorary doctorate for local baroness

BARONESS Cathy Ashton of Up Holland has been made an Honorary Doctor of Edge Hill University in "recognition of the powerful influence" her international political roles have had in encouraging peace and stability around the world.

The Labour politician served as the High Representative of the Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy, and First Vice President of the European Commission.

Highlights of her diplomatic career include her role in brokering the first-ever talks between the leaders of Serbia and Kosovo, re-opening diplomatic channels in Egypt following the Arab Spring, securing the details that formed the subsequent agreement to freeze Iran's nuclear programme, and working with US Secretary of State John Kerry to co-ordinate successive rounds of economic sanctions against Russia after its annexation of Crimea.

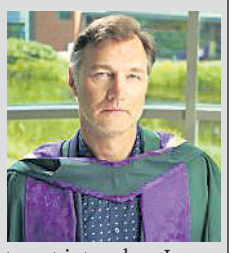
Baroness Cathy Ashton

Accepting her accolade from the Ormskirk University's vice-chancellor, John Cater, she said: "Education is absolutely everything, it is the transforming element of your life. It allows you to do things that your families before you could not have done. It allows you to understand the world better.

"Education is the way out of the past and into the future."

Acting star 'amazed' by facilities

BAFTA nominated actor David Morrissey (right) has been awarded an Honorary Doctor of Arts by Edge Hill University for his ongoing contribution to UK drama, television and film.



Accepting his accolade from the Ormskirk university's chancellor, Professor Tanya Byron, he said: "It's a great honour to be here and share your day with you. I was shown around this fantastic university and have been so impressed by everything.

"The facilities are just amazing and I was bowled over by these professional studios that are just like the ones I was desperate to get into when I was starting out.

"Being from Liverpool, when I do come back to the North West, the thing I always think about is family. When I told my mum and dad I wanted to be an actor, it was like telling them I wanted to be an astronaut because they couldn't help me. They knew nobody in that profession at all but they encouraged me."

Day I found I couldn't organise a booze-up in a brewery!

I WAS invited to a local brewery this week, one of those gallant, small micro breweries that have sprung up all over the country, producing the kind of beer that in former days I would have been delighted to have a tasting session with.

As it was, I settled for an excellent mug of tea produced by the same chap who is presently turning out award-winning ale.

This was only the second actual brewery I have 'toured', the first was at Wainfleet, just outside bracing Skegness. To my shame I cannot for the life of me remember what it is called but it too produced wonderful brews on a relatively small scale.

But it was also my third visit to a brewery, though not its 'working parts'. The other was back in the late 1960s or early 1970s and it was when I discovered that, yes, I couldn't organise a booze-up in a brewery!

I had applied for a job with one of the largest London breweries, famed for its production of 'real ale' on account of: a) my boss at that time and I just did not get along; and b) at that time beer, or the drinking of it anyway, was my major hobby.

As it turned out the whole day could be said to have been a waste of time since, having been led into a wonderful oak-panelled boardroom and been introduced to an avuncular gentleman who headed up their PR team, I was told 'thanks for coming, but really there is no job'. The vacancy had been filled from inside as, I imagine, had been the intention all along.

Pity that, because one vital part of my job, had I got it, was to nip along to the opening of new or refurbished pubs and entertain the local and sometimes national press by 'buying' them drinks, telling them what a good brewery it was I worked for and generally see to it that they had a jolly good time, hic!

Anyway that was not to be, but a good day out it was anyway. My avuncular friend insisted that I must have had to buy breakfast on the train from Wigan. I would, of course, require lunch and dinner on the train home (for which the brewery had already coughed up first-class tickets). Oh, and of course the taxi journeys from and to Euston and from and to my home.

Lovely chap.

But all this has put me in mind of other interviews I have attended – some good, some bad, some just off-putting.

There was one with some kind of up-and-coming electronics giant near Bournemouth. Well. It wasn't so much an interview as a succession of IQ tests. I happen generally to be rather good at those, but frankly I had decided, long before they had, that this probably wasn't the place for me.

Another one, with a national safety organisation in London, was the very opposite of the one at the brewery. You climbed rickety stairs to a shambles of an office somewhere near Paddington. Since I spent most of my short interview arguing with my inquisitors I was already in the mood to tell them where they could poke their job when the subject came to expenses. First class train – the very idea! Eating? Well, I had to do that wherever I was, so shall we say a pie and a pint?

And I did tell them exactly where they could put their job – and it wasn't in a scruffy office near Paddington!

Then there were the really civilised ones. Like one with a famous city bank, which I never really thought I stood a chance of getting. I didn't either, but was called back for a second interview so put that one down as a kind of success.

And lastly of course, the two that got away.

I've mentioned before my interview for a job with the old Ribble bus company that I stupidly turned down.

There was also one with British Rail's PR people which I didn't get because I didn't put up a good enough performance I suppose.

C'est la vie!

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service Merseyside & surrounding areas and manager Louis Richards agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Louis a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

"Cloudy2Clear GUARANTEE All Customers That An Average Quote Will Take No Longer Than 20 MINS!!!"

University initiative shortlisted for Heart Safe award

Report by Henry James

EDGE Hill's commitment to heart health has been recognised with a shortlisting in the UK Heart Safe Awards 2016.

The Ormskirk university is nominated in the educational establishment of the year category in recognition of Heartstart training offered to employees and students.

The Heartstart initiative, supported by the British Heart Foundation, aims to teach people the skills needed to help keep someone alive until professional help arrives.

Students and staff taking part learn essential life-saving skills, including how to deal with an unconscious person; how to spot the signs and symptoms of a heart attack; recognising a cardiac arrest and performing CPR; how to deal with choking and how to deal with serious bleeding.

Karen Simpson, senior lecturer in paramedic practice and pre-hospital care at Edge Hill, said the Heartstart initiative has been a great success with staff and students.

Mandatory requirement

"Winning the UK Heart Safe award would help to promote Edge Hill's focus on simple first aid skills, and potentially encourage future students to study and undertake research in this life-saving area.

"Edge Hill University has held a number of events with professional groups such as Hand on Heart, Lancashire Defibrillation Campaign, British Heart Foundation and North West Ambulance Service to promote heart safe skills.

"We have also introduced heart safe skills as a mandatory requirement for certain job roles and post-graduate courses to ensure life-saving skills are present across the campus.

"In the future we are looking to develop a mobile app that provides basic first aid advice and information about health services in the area.

"The university also hopes to be registered with the UK Resuscitation Council by the end of 2017," she added.

The UK Heart Safe Awards is the UK's leading national awards competition to celebrate organisations and employers who invest in creating Heart Safe environments and the acts of individuals who have saved lives while at work or leisure.

Winners will be announced at a ceremony at Manchester's Midland Hotel on October 7.

Put your eyesight before fashion when it comes to sunglasses

FASHION-CONSCIOUS sunglasses wearers are being urged to make sure that their trendy shades are actually protecting their eyes from harmful UV rays.

Natalie Simm, store director at Specsavers in Ormskirk, is warning local residents to be careful to buy sunglasses which protect their eyes up to UV400 levels and have a CE marking, which show that they are up to a suitable standard to be sold within Europe.

She said: "Many people are unaware that throwaway-fashionable sunglasses without the correct CE marks could actually endanger their sight more than not wearing sunglasses at all. This is because the dark lenses cause our pupils to widen and let more light in, but without the UV filter, this could increase the risk of certain eye conditions over the long term.

Painful

"Children's eyes are particularly at risk of damage, as they have larger pupils and clearer lenses in the eye than adults which allows more UV to penetrate.

"Kids should wear sunglasses as soon as they will keep them on, from around the age of two.

"Consumers need to ensure that they look out for the CE kite mark and that sunglasses are UV400 filtered. Cheaper glasses not bearing these marks might not provide adequate protection from the sun's harmful UV rays.

"Short-term exposure to UV rays can cause photo keratitis, painful inflammation on the front of the eye. Excessive long-term UV exposure has been linked to eye conditions such as age-related macular degeneration and cataracts."

Don't forget to check out how much UV protection those 'trendy' shades offer

Packed month of free activities in store for Junior Rangers

WEST Lancs Council's Junior Rangers Club have lined up a fabulous free month of activities for children aged between five and 12 throughout August in parks across the borough.

Children can learn outdoor survival skills, enjoy arts activities and find out more about the animals and plants that live in our parks.

There's also the opportunity to do the John Muir Discovery Award which helps them to discover, explore, conserve and share experiences of a wild space.

To achieve the award youngsters must attend at least four sessions. More details are available from Anne Faulkner, urban park ranger, on 01695 570258 or email anne.faulkner@westlancs.gov.uk.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's sportfolio holder for leisure, said: "Children can enjoy exciting activities in the Junior Rangers programme this summer and learn a lot about nature and wildlife. The events are free so book online and come and join the Junior Rangers."

Children will be able to learn outdoor survival skills

Outdoor skills

All Junior Rangers' activities take place between 2 and 4pm, starting with Natural Art at Coronation Park, Ormskirk on Monday, August 1.

There are further art events at Beacon Country Park on Tuesday, August 16 and Wednesday, August 24.

The Junior Rangers can learn more about outdoor survival skills at Beacon Country Park on Tuesday, August 2.

They can then turn into investigators at Urban Nature Detective sessions on Wednesday, August 3 at Stanley Coronation Park, Skelmersdale, and Richmond Park, Burscough, on Wednesday, August 10.

Booking opens seven days before each event and is essential to avoid disappointment. For more details on events, and to book places, email beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk or call 01695 622794.

Children under eight must be accompanied by an adult when attending a Junior Rangers event.

For more information about volunteering opportunities with the Ranger Service ring 01695 622794. You can also find out more about parks and countryside events by following the Rangers on Twitter @WLBC_Rangers or on Facebook.

How A Solicitor Can Help You Prepare For Your Future Health Care

One of the greatest fears many people have about growing old is their health care.

If you are sick and no longer have the mental capacity to make decisions about how you wish to be treated – for instance, when you are suffering from dementia or Alzheimer's disease – the responsibility to make these judgments falls upon others who may not understand your wishes.

We all have particular ways we do and do not want to be treated when we are sick. There might be a particular person you want to live with, for example, rather than be looked after in a care home. However, if you lose the capability to communicate this, it can become a cause of significant distress and anxiety.

You can ensure you are looked after exactly how you want by securing a Lasting Power Of Attorney. A Health and Welfare LPA gives someone you trust – your partner, your parent, your children, etc. – the authority to make these crucial decisions on your behalf.

The process of acquiring an LPA can be quite complicated, but those worried about their health care can instruct a solicitor to assist them. The Southport solicitors Magnus Legal work alongside a team of people who know exactly how to do this.

A Lasting Power Of Attorney grants someone the legal control to manage a person's affairs according to their best wishes. As well as health it can pertain to finances, possessions and various other assets if you secure a Property and Affairs LPA.

You can verbally state your wishes to the person who will be your attorney – or better yet, you could write them down so there is no room for doubt – and they are duty bound in the eyes of the law to see them implemented. You are also protected by the Mental Capacity Act 2005 which ensures your attorney looks after your interests.

By securing a Lasting Power Of Attorney, you are able to guarantee that you will be looked after exactly how you desire. This could be related to particular treatments you do or not want to receive, where and how you should live if you are no longer able to be independent, and whether you want life-sustaining treatment as part of your health care.

Without an LPA, you have no say in how you are treated. In extreme cases, particularly when it relates to resuscitation, the decisions may be made by a Court Of Protection. Not only could this set you back thousands of pounds, it also risks taking the choice away from you or your loved ones.

Apprenticeships have 'image problem' with region's young people according to report

APPRENTICESHIPS have an image problem among young people in the North West, according to new research.

A new YouGov survey commissioned by employment specialists Reed in Partnership and qualifications body NCFE suggests apprenticeships have an 'image problem' among young people - with those aged 18 to 24 the least likely age group to see the merit of an apprenticeship.

The government's Apprenticeship Strategy states that their "goal is for young people to see apprenticeships as a high quality and prestigious path to successful careers".

However, an 18-24 year old is almost four times less likely than someone aged 55-plus to view an apprenticeship as the best option for 18-year-olds. Only 7% of people aged 18 to 24 considered apprenticeships as the best way forward, while 68% think Higher Education is the best option.

Only 25% of people in the North West view apprenticeships as the best option for 18-year-olds, compared to 49% who view HE as the best option.

Reed in Partnership managing director, Martin Fallon, said: "We support the government's aim to increase the number of young people going down the apprenticeship route after school. The benefits of apprenticeships are clear, both for the individuals undertaking them and for the taxpayer.

"However, our new research highlights the scale of the challenge the government faces to realise this ambition. "Apprenticeships continue to suffer from an image problem compared to Higher Education. The young people the Government wants to consider taking up apprenticeships are the least likely to view them favourably."

High school celebrates teacher training partnership success

STAFF at Deyes High School in Maghull have hosted a celebration get-together to mark the success of 41 newly-qualified primary and secondary teachers who all train in schools in a partnership with Deyes, entitled School Direct.

Driving force behind the scheme at Deyes, assistant headteacher Pauline Treanor, said: "Becoming a school-centred initial teacher training establishment was a vision held over two years ago and this year our first cohort came to fruition.

"This was achieved through collaboration and partnership of more than 25 schools and 50 home coaches, plus the support of headteachers from across Merseyside and wider boroughs, committed to identify and empower future teachers to train and work in schools with the aim of improving children's education.

"I am delighted that our first cohort have all successfully completed the course and have been recommended for Qualified Teacher Status (QTS).

"More than 75% are already employed, 26 locally.

"Our mantra is 'everyday is an interview' and this has certainly been the case.

"These quality professionals have taken every opportunity provided to them. Many have designed new curriculums and created outstanding resources shared across the partnership. They have led initiatives in the schools, leading assemblies, events and numerous extra-curricular activities.

"Alison Brady, the first cohort manager, and I have always said 'take every opportunity available' and this has certainly been the case. School Direct is about learning on the job and our trainees achieved this working alongside classroom experts."

Anyone interested in teacher training with Associated Merseyside Partnership SCITT can contact Mrs Treanor on p.treanor@deyeshigh.co.uk.

Helping hand for service vets

IF you've served in the armed forces and are finding it hard to adapt to life on Civvy Street, help is at hand.

Joe Crocock, Military Veterans Service manager at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, said: "We want to encourage veterans experiencing mental health problems such as Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), depression and anxiety or those dealing with substance misuse, to get in touch with the service. It is made up of specialists who understand the culture of the armed forces and can provide help for anyone experiencing emotional difficulties or wanting to develop their skills and look for new employment."

For more information or to make a self-referral, visit www.lancashire-care.nhs.uk/Military-Veterans or call 0300 323 0707.

Health chiefs' safe sex message

HEALTH chiefs are urging young people in Lancashire to practice safe sex this summer to help prevent unplanned pregnancies and sexually transmitted infections (STIs).

Sue Capstick, contraception and sexual health service manager at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, said: "At this time of year we see an increase of under-25s visiting our clinics for screenings, so it's important to get the message across to people that good condom use is an effective way of helping to prevent pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections.

"Our aim is that young people are not afraid to talk about and take charge of their own sexual health. We provide a range of confidential services, offering testing and treatment of STIs, contraception and non-judgmental advice and support when needed the most."

To contact your local contraception and sexual health team and book an appointment or find out about 'drop-ins' call 01772 401140, the service is free and accessible to everyone.

Champion ENTERTAINMENT

Win tickets to see non-stop show

LAZYTOWN – a new, non-stop, interactive, energetic show – jam-packed with singing, dancing, acrobatics, music and fun is coming to The Empire and the Champion has four family tickets to giveaway.

A 60 minute highly interactive and energetic show, full of singing, dancing, spectacular acrobatics and music, featuring original tracks from the hit TV show including No One's Lazy in LazyTown, Big Bang and Never Say Never. LazyTown Live on Stage features Sportacus, Stephanie, Ziggy, Robbie Rotten and the audience.

Robbie is at his rottenest, Sportacus at his super-active best. LazyTown engages, entertains and motivates children to make healthier choices. For some kids, it's all about music and dancing, while for other kids it's about sports and action. But for parents, it's a tool to raise healthy kids.

Stephanie, an optimistic girl with bright pink hair, comes to live in LazyTown and meets a zany mix of townspeople, including the world's laziest super-villain, Robbie Rotten.

Fortunately for Stephanie, LazyTown is also under the watchful eye of Sportacus, an athletic, super-active, slightly-above-average hero, who runs, jumps and flips. Sportacus always manages to save the day and help the kids of LazyTown foil Robbie's latest lazy schemes.

LazyTown

Sportacus has SportsCandy with every meal. He thinks it's a good idea to let kids choose what type of SportsCandy they want each day. Sportacus likes to make up themes such as Melon Mondays or Banana Sundays. He also thinks it's a great idea to get everyone moving and exercising to thwart Robbie's plans.

Be prepared to join all your favourite LazyTown characters Live on Stage and learn how to be a real Super Hero in this interactive stage show.

It will be at The Empire from Thursday, August 11 to Saturday, August 13.

To be in with a chance of winning tickets answer this question: How many minutes does LazyTown last for? Answers, which must include an address and a telephone number, to Champion newspapers, Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport, PR9 OQA by Thursday, August 4 at 1pm.

Roy Chubby Brown

Controversial comedian in return visit to resort

CONTROVERSIAL comedian Roy Chubby Brown is coming back to the town for his 2016 tour.

Chubby Brown, who is known for his "blue" style of humour, can be seen at Southport Theatre this Saturday (July 30).

He promises to pull no punches and leave no topic off-limits with his jaw-dropping take on the world and everyone in it.

As politically incorrect as ever, 'The World's Most Outrageous Comedian' is far too rude for TV, so his live performances are the only place to see Chubby in action.

Roy Chubby Brown has been entertaining audiences for more than 40 years, first as a drummer and then as a comedy act under the name 'Alcock and Brown'. His solo career began with a runner-up spot on New Faces, a rare TV appearance given the nature of his current act. Since then he has maintained a loyal following for his controversial stand-up routines.

The show carries an age guidance of 18+ and if easily offended stay away.

Our Jay
Tragically taken from us 27/07/2004

Thinking of you forgetting you never.
Your beautiful face in our hearts forever. To give you a hug and hold you once more, is what our hearts are yearning for. But you were only lent not given, to bud on Earth and bloom in Heaven.
So look around your garden Lord and find the son we love. Put your arms around him, oh how we wish we could.
No tears in Heaven Jay.
Loved and missed always. Mum, Dad, Danielle, Liam, Stuart and family xxx

Planning (Listed Buildings & Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 - Article 15

APPLICATION(S) FOR PLANNING PERMISSION

Application No: 2016/0750/FUL Erection of agricultural building (resubmission of planning permission 2015/0397/FUL) at Tunley Brook Barn, Mossy Lea Road, Wrightington.

The proposed development affects a right of way to which Part III of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 applies.

APPLICATION(S) AFFECTING A CONSERVATION AREA / LISTED BUILDING

Application No: 2016/0587/FUL Erection of stable building and extension to existing manege at Charity Farm, Smithy Brow Wrightington.

The applications are available for viewing on the Council's website www.westlancs.gov.uk/planning. Alternatively, the application can be viewed during normal office hours at 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk and at 1st Floor, The Concourse, Skelmersdale. If you wish to comment on the proposal you can do so via the Council's web site, by e.mail to plan.apps@westlancs.gov.uk or in writing to Development and Regeneration Services, 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, but these must be received within 21 days of the date of this notice quoting the application no. Any comments made will be available for public inspection.

Applications for Minor Commercial and Householder Development

In the event that an appeal is made against a decision of the Council to refuse to grant planning permission for the proposed development, and that appeal then proceeds by way of the expedited procedure under the written representations procedure, any representations made to the Council about an application will be passed to the Secretary of State and there will be no opportunity to make further representations.

Champion MOTORS

NEWS DESK · 01704 392 400
www.champnews.com

Use chasing Pokemon game to reduce traffic speeds in town

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.co.uk

THERE are – I'm reliably informed – six Pokéstops within easy reach of Southport's seafront.

Apparently Pikachus and Jigglypuffs are everywhere and more popular than a video of Taylor Swift counting down the internet's top ten amusing cat videos. You thought the motoring column in The Champion would be a good place to get away from Pokémon Go, didn't you? Sadly not, because it has not one but two motoring-related applications.

The first is that the police in Sefton and West Lancashire really ought to be strongly encouraging more people to go out and play Pokémon Go, because it's more effective at curbing your speed than any yellow flashing box of misery ever will be.

My other half is obsessed with the app and uses every outing to up her Pokémon stash, but in order to fool the game into thinking you're merely Usain Bolt on an evening jog rather than a pair of cheats in a car you realistically can't do any more than 35mph.

All of which means everyone else is either stuck behind at 30-ish or too busy playing the game themselves (from the passenger seat, obviously) to care. Really all of the region's three million 20mph zones ought to be festooned with Pokéstops and the dual carriageways stripped of them altogether, in some brilliant bid to control everyone's speed without them noticing.

But the even better news – and I hope there are some budding game developers reading this week – is that the thinking behind Pokémon Go clearly has a petrolhead application. Stick with me on this one, because it could make an entire generation interested in cars again.

It's a little known fact that the Automatic Numberplate Recognition system beloved of the police and paranoid petrol station operators can be harnessed as a mobile phone app. As a result it's entirely plausible could make a game where kids collect fast cars rather than weirdly shaped Nineties dinosaurs – and then race 'em against their mates later on.

It'd encourage kids to get into great cars early – use the game to go hunting at your nearest supermarket and might end up with nothing more than a 12-reg Focus, but make the effort of going to a car show and your phone might zap a Jaguar XJ220 and a Ferrari F40 in the same day. Think of it as Gran Turismo Go and you've got the idea; only with Porsches rather than Pikachus as the prize catches.

Obviously, I'll expect millions of pounds in royalties when the game's inevitably launched later this year. Just remember, you read it here first…

The technology behind the game could inspire car designers formbyford

is closing at the end of July due to the retirement of its owners Paul & Susan Rigby.

We of course wish them both a long, happy and healthy retirement and would also like to offer their customers continuation of the top quality service they have enjoyed for many years.

Martin Bedson (Formby Ford's Sales Manager of 18 years) will be joining us on 1st August and will continue looking after all of his customers personally. He will be offering the same great deals on both New & Used cars and will of course take care of his Motability Customers whether it be to order a New Ford with Nil Deposit or the Servicing Requirements on their current car.

Fairway Motors is Merseyside's oldest Ford Dealer and is only 15 minutes drive from Formby on the new A5758 link road.

We look forward to being of service to all Formby Ford's customers and are happy to undertake any warranty work on both New & Used cars. Our service department is also on hand to look after any service issues you may have on cars or vans.

We Are Here To Serve You.

The best new car deals are at Merseyside's oldest Ford dealer!

Burscough forced to settle for draw at Orrell

BURSCOUGH are in fourth place in the Liverpool Competition First Division, three points behind Fleetwood Hesketh, after being held to a draw at home against Orrell Red Triangle.

After being asked to bat first Lee Berrie (51), Brendan Domigan (41), Ryan Hughes (37), Alan Murray (31*) and Chris Andrews (24*) enabled Burscough to declare after 52.5 overs on 221-5, with Lee Martinus taking 3-56.

In reply Sam Heeley (76) and Petrus Jeftha (41) helped deny Burscough as Orrell ended on 191-8, with Navdeep Aujla taking 4-42.

Maghull climbed out of the relegation zone with a much needed four wicket home win over Prestatyn.

The visitors elected to bat and thanks to Sampath Perera (40), Gareth Boughey (38) and Joe Horton (26) posted 181 up on the board, with Liam Johnson taking 6-80 with the ball.

In reply, Australian Jack Wrigglesworth hit an unbeaten 86, Greg Gillespie (29) and Jon Ring (23) as Maghull sealed victory on 185-6.

Ainsdale moved joint top with a five wicket win at Newton le Willows after dismissing for 121 with Mal Swift continuing his recent fine form with 7-44, whilst Connor Windell claimed five victims behind the stumps.

Ainsdale slipped to 23-3 in reply as Cameron Smith tore through the top order, before Sam Lucas (41) and an unbeaten 53 from Mark Lucas restored order as they eased their way to victory on 126-5.

Fleetwood Hesketh sit six points behind the joint leaders in third place after holding Wigan to a draw at Bull Hey. The hosts batted first and skipper and former New Zealand Test batsman Aaron Redmond responded with an unbeaten 120, as they virtually batted Fleetwood out of the game with 263-4 in 56 overs. The visitors were 103-6 at one point but a bludgeoned unbeaten 50 from keeper Lee Rimmer and an unbeaten 20 from Tommy Wareing took Fleetwood to safety as they closed on 173-6.

Southport & Birkdale have a game in hand on the top four and moved up to fifth place with a seven wicket home win over Highfield.

Burscough host Prestatyn on Saturday.

Ormskirk second after 114-run win

ORMSKIRK sit in second place in the Liverpool Competition Premier Division table after a 114 run home win over relegation threatened Rainford.

A superb century from Josh Bohannon (122 inc 14x4 & 1x6), 47 from Andy Baybutt and 43 from Ian Robinson enabled Ormskirk to declare on 250-4, with Andy Davies taking 3-50.

In reply John Dotters hit an unbeaten 55 but his efforts were all in vain as Lancashire's Simon Kerrigan 4-28 and Scott Less 3-27 helped dismiss Rainford for 136 to seal an emphatic victory.

Northern sit on top of the table after a convincing 115 run win at struggling Birkenhead Park.

Batting first Northern declared on 220-5, thanks to Liam Grey (72), Justin Snow (35*), Stephen Cole (30) and skipper James Cole (27*).

In reply 4-38 from Ryan Maddock, 3-13 from Scott Snaylam and five victims behind the stumps from Northern's skipper helped seal victory and dismiss the hosts for 105.

Sixth placed Formby had a 27 run home win in a low scoring contest against Lytham.

The hosts were soon in trouble on 66-8 but 24 from James Seaward and 26 from tailender Ollie Sutton helped them eventually post 122, with Toby Lester 4-17 and Luke Williams 3-31 in form with the ball.

In reply Lytham opener Taylor Cornall almost took his team to victory but his 178 ball vigil ended when he was last man out for 48 as Lytham were dismissed for 95, with Gary Keedy 5-27 from 24 overs and Tym Crawford 5-42 taking all ten wickets to fall, whilst Seaward claimed five victims behind the stumps.

This weekend's local LDCC Premier Division fixtures: Northern v Wallasey, Ormskirk v Lytham.

Skem set to host Blues in county cup semi-final

SKELMERSDALE United face Everton this week in their long overdue Liverpool County FA Senior Cup semi-final clash.

Postponed last season due to bad weather, the tie has been re-scheduled for Thursday, July 28 at Stormy Corner, kick off 7.45pm.

Everton have a big squad and many of their youngsters have had first team experience, so hopes are high that a number of the players on show will have notched up Premier League appearances.

Skelmersdale have looked pretty good in the pre-season, bagging a draw with a strong Accrington Stanley team last week, so it could be close game.

One thing that is certain though, is that the match will be decided on the night, as Liverpool County cup competition rules dictate that after 90 minutes the match goes directly to a penalty shoot-out.

If Skelmersdale beat Everton, they will play the final on Saturday, August 6 against either Prescot Cables or Litherland Remyca.

Next week, Skelmersdale are in action on Tuesday, August 2 when they travel to Victoria Park to face Burscough.

The match will have the added twist that it could well be a rehearsal for the First Qualifying Round of the FA Trophy, where Skelmersdale have been drawn at home to either Burscough of Kendal Town.

It's the dawn of new era for Linnets vows Sutton

Report by Tom Martin

BURSCOUGH'S newly appointed director of football, David Sutton, believes it's the "dawn of a new era" at the club.

As reported in the Champion, Mark Beesley has quit as manager and most of the first team players handed in transfer requests.

But Sutton believes new boss Dave Powell, first team coach John Filan and a whole host of new faces in the playing squad can steer the Linnets to success in the upcoming season.

He said: "This is a new beginning for Burscough FC.

"We are starting from scratch. We want the club to be successful but we all have to appreciate things will take time, so win or lose let us all give it a go.

"I want fans to be part of this new chapter in Burscough FC and let us grow together.

"We want players who will give their heart and soul.

"This is what we want Burscough FC to do.

"We want to build a community, a club that everyone wants to be a part of.

"People have only heard one side of the story about things that are happening here and we have not responded to the negative stories but concentrated on the positive things that are happening for the future.

"We want a new concept at Burscough.

"We want to do things differently, to be all inclusive where everybody is welcome and part of the Burscough family."

Burscough will host Witton Albion in a pre-season friendly this Friday (July 22) at 7.45pm

Life after fifty, the golden years, life begins at... there are so many ways of describing a period of life that everyone should look forward to after years of work and the stresses, pressures and responsibility that come with it.

But the truth is that unless you prepare and organise yourself in what you plan to do for the rest of your lives, the idea of permanent retirement can be somewhat daunting.

Focus on Growing Young is all about choices and it is also about sitting down and thinking of what a typical day or week is going to be like once you are retired. There are a multitude of choices available out there so let us explore what they are...

Too often, we dream of our retirement years and hope that each day will provide us with the exact opposite of our busy working lives. Lazy mornings in bed, leisurely walks, long lunches and coffee whenever we feel like it, spending quality time with our children and grandchildren, taking off at a moment's notice. But is retired life really like that? And would we want it as directionless and as free of routine as you may have dreamt when you were younger? Truth is as we get older, most of us need routine and plans, much more than we ever did, so structure is more important than ever through our daily lives.

Look After Yourself

Eating well will encourage a better immune system and an increased ability to fight off illness and infections. Therefore you should try to cut down on red meat and processed foods. Whilst most of us love a drink, try to reduce the amount of alcohol you consume and make an effort to eat more fresh fruit and vegetables. Try to eat fish a couple of times a week. Fish is amongst the healthiest foods on the planet, loaded with important nutrients such as protein and vitamin D. Fish is also a great source of Omega-3 fatty acids which are incredibly important to both the body and brain.

Stay Active and Healthy

As we age, it is more important than ever to stay active and maintain a healthy lifestyle. Regular physical activity can benefit you in a number of ways, increasing energy levels, whilst also keeping your weight in check and lowering the risk of high blood pressure and heart disease. Whilst it is always advisable to speak to your doctor before starting an exercise program, many experts agree that regular exercise is one of the best things seniors can do to boost their health. There are many ways of achieving this so decide which will be most suitable and motivate you best...

If you have never been a member at a gym, but feel you don't want to become sofa bound, it is unlikely that you will keep it up all year long. So look at what you have always enjoyed doing and increase or renew your interest. If you love dancing, join a dance class. If you enjoy swimming, go to the local pool a couple of times a week. If walking in the countryside is more your thing, join a local ramblers club.

If you are an avid reader, make a list of all the books you have always wanted to read and never had the time.

Everyone has a story to tell and your relatives probably know surprisingly little about you. Write your memoirs by jotting down memories as you go.

And how about learning a new skill such as a language or maybe an instrument... All these activities will help keep you mentally active and are also great fun, whilst also allowing you get meet new people. You're never too old to learn something new!!!

Travel

Once the reserve of the wealthy, low cost airlines has meant travel has now become affordable with more choices than ever before. The Internet has for the most part 'freed' travellers as people can book their own accommodation, travel and transfers. And if you know what you are doing then that is fine.
However deals to be had still exist at your local travel agent and one of the areas that has grown significantly is cruises. Even if you are unfamiliar with the world of cruises, do not be overwhelmed by the luxury promises and prices. All Inclusive cruises are both popular and extremely convenient. Travelling to destinations worldwide, these ships have gotten larger and more luxurious over the years.

Hobbies and Free Time

When thinking about retirement, you probably looked forward to long stretches of unplanned time. Now that you have retired, you may find yourself wondering how you are going to fill all that time.

So you can write, paint, walk, play golf or even join a club where like minded folk will be enjoying a few hours together. Keeping in touch with friends and family and having a good social circle is essential as you get older and you can join friendship centres designed for leisure with coffee mornings, tea dances, entertainment and board games. You may prefer to join special interest clubs as already pointed out or even older people's forums where your voice can be heard on information and services that are important to you.

The brilliant Age UK website has lots of information for you to look at. www.ageuk.org.uk/get-involved/social-groups/

Learning New Things

With more time than ever at your disposal, retirement is the perfect time to learn a new skill, and with many courses in IT and languages available, the world really is your oyster. There are so many subjects and the fees are generally quite low and can be adapted to your budget. You can look for information on your local college portal or see some of what your council has to offer on their site.

www.activewestlancs.org

Developing a new skill not only fills many hours and keeps you mentally active but is also a great way to meet new people.

Joining a class need not necessarily be confined to a classroom either. Why not learn a dance skill with ballroom or line dance? Or maybe even join amateur dramatics and reach within for the actor in you.

Look at all the things you loved doing when you were young and had time to do and rediscover them.

If you are disabled in any way there are many more options open to you on the same college and council portals so there is no need to feel excluded.

And of course if you are at home you may be interested to join Open University (www.open.ac.uk). This is a fee based service but again depending on your circumstances lots of help can be given out so have a look at their website and see what suits you.

Home Life

The idea of moving home is always terrifying, at any age, let alone as you grow older. But it is a decision that can be borne out of necessity (cash), need (health), hope (moving away) and many other important factors.

Whatever your motivations are, it is important to focus on the possible pitfalls as well as what your hopes are. Every option will have pros' and cons' and it is important to research your preferred option. The Internet is a great source of information but talk to family and friends, not so you can be swayed but rather that you walk in to a new situation with your eyes wide open.

It could be that you want, or need to downsize, be in a different location or live within a retirement village. Any move is potentially full of risks and should be done in three basic stages.

1. A list of pros and cons of where you are and a list of what you would want the new home to be and provide for you. Chat with your partner or relatives while making this list and don't forget the implications on a long term basis. Moving at 60 to a sunny part of the world may have some repercussions 20 years later so what will you do then?

2. Look at all implications (financial, physical, local facilities, etc). Do not make another wish list but rather a fact sheet with as many details of what the move will cost both in the short and long term.

3. Act on your final decision if all odds are in your favour.

Our hearing tests now include video technology

We're always happy to show you our digital hearing aid prices, unlike some of our competitors. Perhaps when you compare their price to ours, you can understand why. Remember, all our prices are for two hearing aids and lots more besides.

Hearing loss can have a huge impact on your life. Even enjoyable social occasions can become a challenge. At Specsavers Hearing Centres we can change all that, with a free hearing test conducted by a professional hearing aid audiologist. If you do need a hearing aid we offer outstanding value for money, with two digital hearing aids, four years' worth of batteries and a four-year guarantee, from just £495. And the latest miniature technology means even those closest to you will only notice the difference in your hearing.

Retirement Living: Retire in Style with McCarthy and Stone

Award-winning retirement housebuilder, McCarthy and Stone, specialises in creating stunning collections of beautifully designed, low maintenance apartments, designed to ensure you or a loved one enjoys retirement to the full. There has never been a better time to downsize with summer offers, including Part Exchange, available until the end of August at McCarthy and Stone's new Retirement Living developments at Coronation Court in Ormskirk, Grove Court in Crosby and Charlotte Court in Ainsdale; as well as its Assisted Living development, Brunlees Court in Southport.

To find out more about the summer offers available, you can find further details online at www.mccarthyandstone.co.uk, or arrange a visit to the show complex at the development and talk with the friendly sales team. The show complex is open at each development from Tuesday to Saturday from 10.30am – 5pm, with the exception of Coronation Court in Ormskirk, which is open daily from 10.30am – 5pm. The sales team will be on hand to give you a warm welcome, and you will have plenty of time to take a good look around the show apartment, ask questions and see the lifestyle on offer for yourself.

McCarthy and Stone prides itself on ensuring that each development is unique and is designed with homeowners in mind, so that they can continue to enjoy an active and independent lifestyle. The leading housebuilder offers a variety of products from Retirement Living to Assisted Living, so you can choose what's right for you, depending on your lifestyle needs.

Retirement Living offers the independence of retaining home ownership, while living in a secure, low maintenance and energy efficient apartment. Assisted Living developments are designed for the over 70s to keep their independence whilst having the reassurance of management on site 24 hours a day, excellent facilities such as an on-site table service restaurant, and a qualified team to provide flexible personal care and support packages, tailored around your needs.

Renowned for its customer service, McCarthy and Stone is proud to have achieved the full five star customer service satisfaction rating for an eleventh year from the Home Builders Federation. The only housebuilder – of any size or type – to have achieved the award for eleven consecutive years.

Retirees interested in Retirement Living and Assisted Living with McCarthy and Stone can call 0800 201 4811 for further information, or visit www.mccarthyandstone.co.uk/.
